

PIG NEWS

The following is excerpted from emails:

From: BARBARA FLAGG (District Representative)

I mentioned to Eileen Peco that there is a gap in the fence that separates the golf course from Renaissance. It looks like maybe a gate used to be there. I asked about the possibility of having that plugged ASAP.

The professional hunter should be starting his work in the community next Monday. He will be working along the fence line and in the wooded areas surrounding Kings Point since that is where they can deal with the pigs without coming into the communities. Security will receive a briefing, etc.

The fence along the Master property (starting at the back gate along the garden area) is completed and they are working along the Park property line. Unfortunately it continues to rain, hampering their ability to install fencing in some of the flooded areas - but they are hard at it.

I am also posting a Contact List for those of us who would like to take whatever small action we can by contacting the officials who can help us. When calling, writing, or emailing government officials please remind them that this is a COUNTY AND STATE-WIDE ISSUE; not just a Kings Point problem. Wild hogs are an epidemic in Florida and, if they don't get ahead of the problem soon, it will be too late for the entire state.

If you would like me to email you a .pdf of the Contact List, please send me an email requesting a copy. If you don't have a computer, give me a call and I will get a hard copy to you. My email and phone are posted.
